Global News Coverage in Multiple Languages

Traders and analysts have access to the following news sources:

- Dow Jones Newswires
- Market News International
- Need to Know News
- The Hightower Report

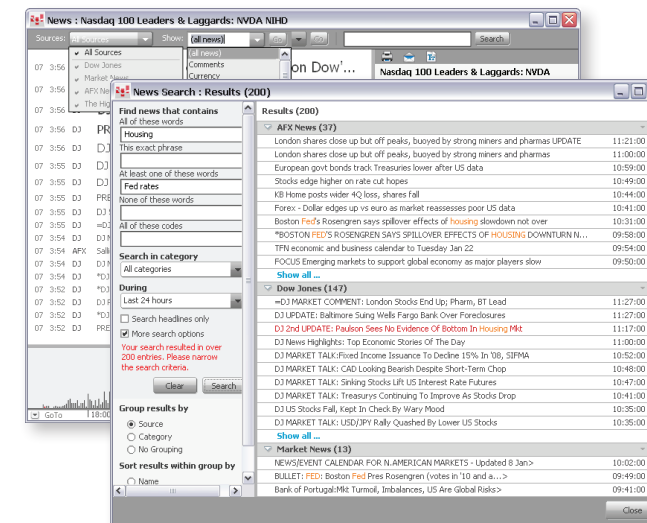

The Dow Jones Newswires service is published in a number of local languages.

CQG News

News for traders in a format designed to highlight the most current information.

Features of the CQG News display include:

- Headlines scroll in real-time. Most recent headlines are displayed in the largest font.
- The display scrolls back in time using the time line graph.
- Red histogram bars in the time line chart indicate news flashes.
- A single click on the headline opens the story in the right-hand pane.
- A double-click on the headline opens the story in its own window.
- Stories can be printed or e-mailed.

Story headlines can be filtered to display by topic. Search news stories by including and excluding key words.

Filtering Headlines and Advanced Searching

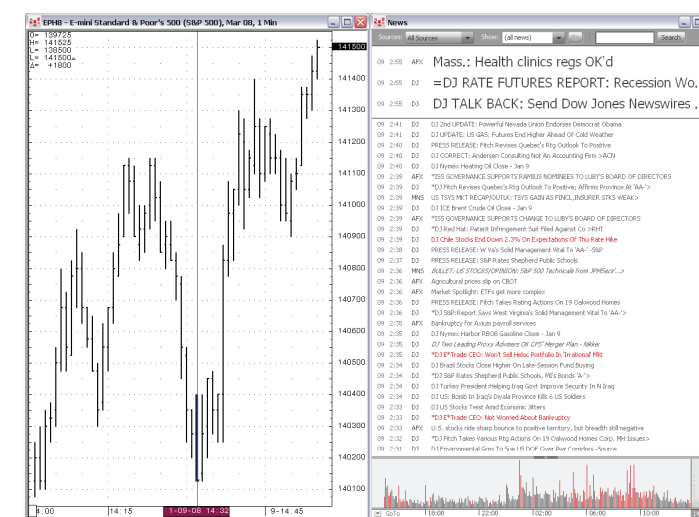

Filter headlines to display market-specific story titles. Perform sophisticated searches of stories to find more information.

Filter Dow Jones headlines by:

- Keyword, including user-selected word
- Market
- Market commentary

Search stories using these parameters:

- All of these words
- This exact phrase
- At least one of these words
- None of these words
- Dow Jones Codes
- During a review period

Link the price chart to the headlines. Scroll through the price chart, and the headlines automatically reflect the same time period on the chart.

News and Chart Synchronization

Link the time cursor of chart price bars to the news headlines.

Review the news that moved the market by linking the cursor on a price chart to the headlines.

Broadcast Your Own News Feed

Use CQG News to display your own in-house news feed.

As a custom solution, our news design supports secure delivery of proprietary customer feeds.
