

Installing Windows Help

June 2010 | Windows® 7 and Windows Vista™

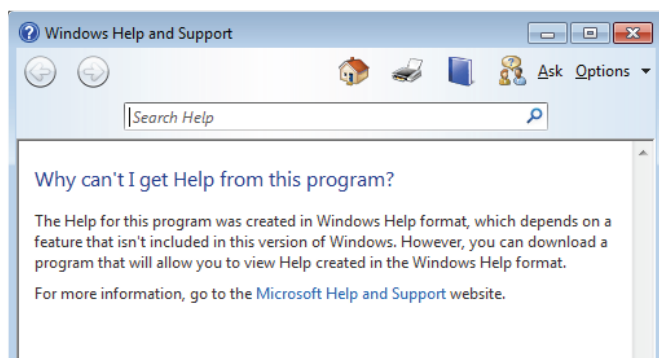

The Windows Help program (WinHlp32.exe) required to view CQG Help files does not ship as a component of Windows 7 or Windows Vista. In order to use CQG Help with these operating systems, you must first download and install the Windows Help program from Microsoft.

To install Windows Help before logging on to CQGNet:

1. Visit the Windows Help program for Windows 7 Web page or the Windows Help program for Windows Vista Web page.
2. Click the Continue button. Microsoft asks to validate your system prior to the download.
3. Follow Microsoft's instructions to download and install Windows Help.

To install Windows Help after logging on to CQGNet:

1. Log on to CQGNet. The Windows Help and Support window and an error message open:

2. On the support window, click the Microsoft Help and Support Web page link. The Web page opens.
3. Click the link to the WinHlp32.exe program.
4. Click the Continue button. Microsoft asks to validate your system prior to the download.
5. Follow Microsoft's instructions to download and install Windows Help.

Once the installation is complete, you can use CQG Help.
